Life in Stratosphere Possible in Future Says
Scientist to Friends

GURGL, Austria, May 29.—(UP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard, elated at the success of his flight to an altitude higher than man had ever ascended, planned today to make other excursions into the upper air in the interests of science.

He and his companion, Charles Kipfer, refreshed by a sound night's sleep—their first in 48 hours—were ready to climb back to the glacier high in the Austrian Alps, to recover the balloon in which they soared 52,500 feet into the stratosphere.

They had broken all altitude records by more than two miles in their 10-mile ascent, but Piccard, professor in the University of Brussels, was more interested in the scientific value of the daring expedition than the fact he had gained world fame as a balloonist. Piccard's enthusiasm in summing up the scientific gains of the flight led him to predict that it had proved the stratosphere, or rare upper air strata, were navigable, and that life could exist 10 miles above the earth.

He aroused the imagination with his prophecies, hitting at airways filled with new types of flying machines racing at tremendous speed about the earth.

"The flight proved that the stratosphere is navigable," Prof. Piccard asserted. "It proved also that an aviator with his modern technical methods will be able to master the problems of pressure and cold at high altitudes."

"I am convinced that my studies will make life in the stratosphere possible in future. I am glad that I helped to inaugurate this new era of aerial transportation. I hope that others will now attempt similar flights to break my record."

Piccard told newspapermen he had conducted highly successful experiments between 15,000 and

END OF GASOLINE WAR BELIEVED NEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—(UP)—A truce in the Pacific coast gasoline war appeared imminent today when the Oil Producers' Sales agency announced it will propose a reduction in the allowable daily output of California oil fields.

The agency said it will seek, effective June 1, a cut from 500,000 to 427,500 barrels of crude oil daily, excluding the Kettleman hills area.

The competitive rate cutting of both major and independent refiners has dropped prices to as low as eight cents a gallon in San Francisco and other coast centers.

FIRING SQUAD

American Who Plotted
Death of Premier Mussolini Killed at Dawn

ROME, May 29.—(UP)—Michele Schirru, naturalized citizen of the United States convicted of plotting to assassinate Premier Benito Mussolini, was executed at dawn.

The confessed anarchist, 32 years old, died before a firing squad at 4:47 a. m. He was convicted of the plot against Mussolini before the special tribunal for defense of the state yesterday and immediately was sentenced to die.

The execution of Schirru took place in the courtyard of the old "Braschi" fortress, in the vicinity of the Vatican. The firing squad was composed of 12 Fascist militiamen.

Schirru, pale and walking between guards, moved to his position in the courtyard as the darkness turned slowly to light. A detachment of 100 militiamen formed a square about the executioners.

An official communiqué said Schirru was shot in the back.

It is the custom in execution of military death sentences to shoot the condemned person in the back when the crime has been of "infamous" character, such as in the case of spies and traitors plotting against the state, the royal family or the premier.

The end of Schirru's remarkable career as a gay figure in Rome's night clubs and as leader of an anarchist band followed his summary trial and conviction by the Fascist tribunal. The death sentence came at the close of the first and only day of his trial.

A crowd which packed the courtroom cheered the verdict. Schirru's only chance to escape death was commutation of his sentence by King Victor Emmanuel. The king refrained from acting.

Coast Track
Men Feature
IC4A Trials

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADEL-
PHIA, Pa., May 29.—(UP)—Frank Wykoff, University of Southern California, established a new meet record at the I. C. A. A. A. meet today when he ran his semi-final heat of the 100 yard dash in 9.6 seconds. His teammate, Maurer, won his heat in 10 seconds.

Bon Eastman, Stanford's be-spectacled quarter-miler, lived up to his ballyhoo by winning the first of the 400 yard dash in :49.3.

U. S. C. heavy favorite to retain the title it won last year, placed two men in the 440. They were Williams and Woessner. Williams won his heat in :48.6, while Woessner took his heat in :49.1.

Eastman turned in another spectacular performance in winning the second heat of the 880. He loafed along all the way until he reached the home stretch and won by yards in 1:58.3.

George Bullinkirk, College of the City of New York, won the first heat in 1:55.

The first record to fall was in the broad jump when Boyle, Pennsylvania, jumping into the wind, buried himself 25 feet 1 1/2 inches. This broke the intercollegiate record of Jesse Hill, U. S. C.

Stanford came close to making a clean sweep in the discus, getting four of the six places. Jones, Stanford's ace, entirely outclassed his field, his throw of 159 feet 2 1/4 inches being a full ten feet better than his nearest competitor, who happened to be a teammate, Laborde.

Broad jump trials—Six men qualify for finals. Won by Boyle, Pennsylvania, 25 feet 1 1/8 inches (new intercollegiate record); Barber, U. S. C., second, 24 feet 8 1/4 inches; Butler, Stanford, third, 23 feet 10 inches; West, Stanford, fourth, 23 feet 9 1/4 inches; Smith, Syracuse, fifth, 23 feet 7 inches; Andrusky, Pennsylvania, sixth, 23 feet 6 inches.

Register Will Publish Early
On Saturday

Following its custom of years standing The Register will publish early tomorrow, Memorial Day. Plans call for the press to start running at 10 o'clock in the morning and city and suburban deliveries will be made immediately. Mail and bus service will necessarily be moved up also.

All business in the city and county will be at a standstill tomorrow. All stores will be closed as will city and county offices and the banks.

The postoffice will be closed and no delivery of mail will be made.

PHILADELPHIA
UNION LEAGUE
HONORS HOOVER

President to Receive Accolade of Most Famous
G. O. P. Organization

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—As an appropriate preliminary to the impending political season, President Hoover is about to receive the accolade of the Union League of Philadelphia, one of the most famous citadels of the Republican faith.

The president and Mrs. Hoover will attend a dinner at that historic Republican club tonight. This organization, which sprang from the Union cause during the Civil war, will present Mrs. Hoover with a portrait of the president by Phillips Costa.

Every Republican president has been honored by the club, and this ceremony, midway in Mr. Hoover's term, serves at least in the minds of some, to put the final stamp of approval on the president, like the hallmark on a piece of sterling. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is the only member of the club known to have embraced afterward what is known within its sacred portals as the heretical faith of the Democratic party.

The purpose of the "Youth Prohibition Movement" is stated to be "to learn why the eighteenth amendment was adopted, the conditions existing before, and the problems arising since. To understand the problems of enforcement, and to create an intelligent youth opinion and to organize that opinion into a complete and strong movement."

Remaining overnight in Philadelphia, the president and Mrs. Hoover will motor 20 miles to Valley Forge tomorrow morning. Mr. Hoover will deliver a Memorial day address on the ground where Washington spent a winter of privation with his little Continental army. He had planned to return to Washington by motor, but the thought of holiday crowds caused a change of plans.

Instead of eating a picnic luncheon by the roadside and undergoing with thousands of humbler folk the experience of sharing sandwiches with summer insects, the party will return by train, dining enroute in ice-cooled comfort.

"ROBBERS' ROOST" TO START

"Robbers' Roost," by Zane Grey.

That's the next serial novel to be published in the Santa Ana Register.

First installment of this love, mystery and action story will appear in the issue of next Monday, June 1 and daily thereafter until completed.

"Robbers' Roost" is one of the most intriguing stories Zane Grey has ever written and The Register believes it scored a real triumph in obtaining the serial rights to this stirring tale of hard riding, straight shooting men.

YOUTHFUL DRY'S
PLAN MEETING
IN SANTA ANA

S. S. McClure to Address
Big Gathering on Subject of Prohibition

THAT THE young people of Santa Ana and vicinity are to have an opportunity to inform themselves on the subject of prohibition as it is related to good citizenship is indicated by action taken at meeting of a representative group of young folks of the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Plans have been under way for weeks for the institution of a "Youth Prohibition Movement" locally, in keeping with the program of national scope which is being put on for the spread of facts on the subject. These plans have crystallized in the decision of the young people to stage a great union young people's meeting on the evening of June 14, for which they have secured S. S. McClure, nationally known publicist and leader, as the speaker to give the keynote address. Mr. McClure will be "Facts About Prohibition—Before and After."

This mass meeting is to be held in the First Baptist church at the corner of Main and Church streets, at 5:45 p. m., on June 14, and it is expected to attract young folks not only from Santa Ana churches, but from Orange, Tustin, Garden Grove, Costa Mesa and other nearby points.

The committee which has been at work arranging the program for this meeting consists of Miss Mildred Luken, Alden Hazen, Francis Hall and Hugh Walker. They are preparing music and other features in addition to the address by Mr. McClure, and it is their intention to offer a program of rare excellence.

Temporary organization procedure has been in the hands of a committee consisting of Cardwell Ogleby, Roy Arms and Seldon Martin, who have been preparing tentative plans for the general movement as it is to be carried on.

The purpose of the "Youth Prohibition Movement" is stated to be "to learn why the eighteenth amendment was adopted, the conditions existing before, and the problems arising since. To understand the problems of enforcement, and to create an intelligent youth opinion and to organize that opinion into a complete and strong movement."

In actual numbers there were 15,873 persons in the state in 1930 who could neither read nor write. During the past decade, Negro and foreign born white illiteracy in the state was greatly reduced. Only 777 Negro illiterates were reported in the census, and 5,332 foreign born whites. Native white illiterates totalled 8,177.

Nearly 500 Persons Answer Legion Emergency Call

EQUIPMENT IS MOBILIZED BY LOCAL GROUPS

Emergency mobilization test of the American Legion, which took place last night, resulted in the finest response ever met in Santa Ana. It was reported today by W. Hunter Leach, commander, Ed. Kolbe, adjutant, and Ed McFadden, emergency chairman, of the Santa Ana post. Names of 490 persons appeared on the official enrollment sheets.

Included in the list of persons who responded were 107 members of the Santa Ana post, 25 members of the auxiliary and 60 Boy Scouts. There were also 48 civilians, 80 members of the National Guard, 22 policemen, 28 firemen, 24 doctors and 52 nurses.

Equipment which was assembled in response to the emergency signal, sent out via radio, included five ambulances, four trucks with cranes, 80 trucks, 300 blankets, 140 coats and mess equipment for 2000 persons.

The test was to find out what response could be counted on in event of a community disaster or emergency of any nature which would require relief work on a large scale.

Officers of the post were highly gratified at the response this year, in the third annual emergency mobilization, as it exceeded great-

Calvin Coolidge Says . . .

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 28.—Secretary Mellon has convincingly stated the approaching necessity of devising a tax system when business is normal to make national revenues more than depression proof. Assessing taxes where they can best be borne is sound enough. The rich are necessarily the immediate source of the income taxes. But mixed up with our tax laws have been certain social theories for dispossessing the rich in the name of reform rather than for revenue. When we especially need surplus money for relief purposes, we find treasury receipts greatly reduced. This vacillating income of persons and corporations does not supply certain sources of revenue. Taxes should provide a sure income and a balanced budget for the government without reference to social theories. It would be cheaper for the people of small incomes to pay one direct tax to the government than many indirect taxes on what they consume. A broad base of income assessments enabled Great Britain to balance its recent budget with little increased taxes. If government is to be able to relieve future depressions and encourage business it must first provide a revenue system that will not itself be depressed and also demonstrate ability to pay its own bills from current receipts.

ADmits GUILT ON CHARGE OF DRUNK DRIVING

Five informations were filed in superior court today before Judge James L. Allen during the session of criminal court, resulting in two pleas of not guilty, one plea of guilty coupled with a request for probation, and two continuances until the afternoon session of the court.

Frank Bippus admitted his guilt in connection with a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and asked the court for probation. The hearing was set for June 5. The defendant's bond was increased by the court to $1000.

Rodney J. Irwin answered not guilty when arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to commit mayhem, growing out of an alleged attack on Jack Nance, when it is charged he attempted to put out Nance's eye. Irwin's trial was set for June 13.

June 24 was the date set for the trial of Harry Gordon, charged in the information filed by the office of District Attorney Sam Collins with burglary after he entered a place of not guilty. It is alleged he entered the home of Trafford Hutton on San Clemente last November with intent to commit burglary.

Arraignments of Marcos Carrillo, charged with driving while intoxicated, and Miles M. Payne, charged with grand theft in connection with taking $1500 belonging to Nellie F. Wagner, were continued until this afternoon. Payne is also under a previous charge of grand theft in connection with a charge that he took $3500 belonging to Maria and Caroline Knuth.

MORE JURORS EXAMINED IN PANTAGES CASE

The first prosecution witness to be called will be Lydia Nitto, also known as Alice Blake, District Attorney Thomas Whelan announced.

Pantages, Jesse Shreve, William Jobelmann and Olive Clark Day are charged with contributing to the delinquency of the Nitto girl, with another count of conspiracy to contribute to her delinquency being tried simultaneously.

Following the Nitto girl, the prosecution will call John P. Mills, former business partner of Pantages and Shreve, Whelan said.

Mills originally was charged with the other four defendants of similar offenses, but he pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of Miss Nitto and Helen Livingston and asked for probation. Conspiracy charges against him then were dismissed.

At the conclusion of the present trial, Shreve, Jobelmann and Mrs. Day will be tried on counts of contributing and conspiracy to contribute to the delinquency of the Livingston girl, and on a charge of conspiracy to commit a statutory offense against her.

The trip was scheduled for today but was postponed yesterday. A group representing Farm centers of Orange county did make an inspection of the dam site yesterday but another inspection will be made by the affiliated group as soon as arrangements can be made. No public announcement of yesterday's trip was made in advance.

E. E. Campbell, chairman of the Santa Ana Valley Basin Water Right Protective association, is also chairman of the affiliated water committee, and has appointed a committee that will form the executive body of the affiliated committee. Names of the members of the executive committee have not been made public but it is understood that the chairman of each of the individual water committees is to be a member of the executive committee.

The affiliated committee is composed of representatives from the Orange County Fruit Exchange, Northern Orange County Fruit Exchange, Orange County Farm Bureau, Irvine company and Associated Chambers of Commerce. The Woman's League of Voters, headed by Mrs. Carl Mock, has signed a desire to become member of the affiliated committee.

WATER COMMITTEE MEETS IN SANTA ANA TODAY FOLLOWING POSTPONEMENT OF DAM TRIP

Postponement of a scheduled trip to the Chester dam site by the affiliated water committees of Orange county was followed today at noon by a meeting of the group at Kettner's cafe. The trip was postponed because of the fact that Thomas Means, one of the engineers who prepared the flood control report, was unable to accompany the group on the trip. It will be made as soon as one of these engineers can be present to explain technical points which various groups wish to have outlined.

The trip was scheduled for today but was postponed yesterday. A group representing Farm centers of Orange county did make an inspection of the dam site yesterday but another inspection will be made by the affiliated group as soon as arrangements can be made. No public announcement of yesterday's trip was made in advance.

The trip was to present the flood control report to the public in an unified manner.

The trip to the Chester dam site that was scheduled for today will be held when an engineer is obtained to accompany the group. The thought expressed is that it is desirable to have the group go over the dam site and then meet on the location with the engineer so that he can answer questions regarding the rising streams and other problems that the committee wants answered.

Those who went on the trip yesterday visited every dam site as suggested on the flood control report, travelling a distance of 150 miles. Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, Roland D. Flaherty, secretary of the Farm Bureau, J. C. Elmire, of the United States Department of Agriculture, Eric E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor and Murray Thompson, Orange county flood control engineer, made up the party.

Over 24 pictures of the various dam sites were taken. According to Flaherty, these pictures and the information received on the trip are to be used in presenting the flood control report to the various Farm centers in the county during the next month.

"Is this the land Jack Pershing and two million Americans helped liberate? There's no more liberty here than in Russia! I understand now why the French shipped the statue of liberty to New York—they didn't need her any more!"

"And what am I going to do with these girls, all expecting to see Pershing?"

Because police insisted that each girl would have to be locked in her hotel room until the next sailing, Miss Guinan refused an offer that she and the girls might land temporarily. Her friends dashed off to Paris by automobile, hopeful that they might convince the ministers of labor and interior that they should liberate the party and allow fulfillment of contract.

Otherwise the Guinan group must return to New York on the Paris, sailing June 8, classified as "undesirable foreigners."

Detectives had boarded the Paris before the ship docked. They went directly to Miss Guinan's room and advised her that the minister of interior had withdrawn its landing permission. The point was stressed that the government did not know Miss Guinan had been engaged on a contract before she sailed, and the detectives pointed out that 3000 French entertainers are unemployed at Montmartre.

"I have only one desire," said Miss Guinan. "That is to ride Wace (the white horse) down the Champ Elysees. If they let me ashore long enough to do that I'll

PHILADELPHIA UNION LEAGUE HONORS HOOVER

The presidential schedule today provided for departure by train to Philadelphia immediately after luncheon. Mr. Hoover will spend the night at the Bellevue-Stratford after the Union League dinner.

This brief week-end trip will serve as a warming-up experience for the important political expedition into the doubtful states of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana beginning June 15, in the hope of kindling favorable sentiment in territory over which Republican leaders are now considerably worried.

Republicans are not concerned over Pennsylvania, on the theory that if there were any need to worry about this faithful Republican state, it would be too late for anybody to worry. The only political slant which it is possible to distill out of the Pennsylvania visit comes from the agitation of some Republican insurgents to bring about Governor Pinchot as an anti-Hoover presidential candidate.

If there is any political by-product involved in the trip it is that his appearance in Philadelphia, his receipt of the Union League's benediction, not to mention his recent appointment of a Vare candidate to be district attorney for the eastern Pennsylvania district, are all likely to strengthen the regulars in thwarting any ambitions Pinchot may have.

This is one of Prof. Albert Einstein's theories, long disputed, and about which there still remains some doubt.

"I never doubted the success of the enterprise," Piccard said, "because everything was minutely organized in advance. It was very cold and we suffered some hardships above 30,000 feet. The barograph kept rising and at one time I thought we would never stop ascending.

"For a moment," he added, "I felt we were between life and death. When we were a little above 18,000 meters (about 52,500 feet) the balloon stopped and then began descending slowly. It finally dropped to 4000 meters (about 13,100 feet) in little more than an hour. At that altitude we halted in our descent without apparent cause."

It probably was due to the warmer temperature, expanding the gas.

"After sunset the cooler air enabled us to continue the descent, but we were faced with the danger of winds forcing us against the mountainsides, which might have proved disastrous. Of course, we were lucky to land on the glacier and not far from habitation."

Piccard said the landing at 11 p. m. Wednesday night was made easily and that no damage had been done to the balloon. It will be transferred from the glacier to Innsbruck by truck and thence by train to Augsburg, Bavaria, starting point.

Deaths

A WORD OF COMFORT

Lift your heart in thanksgiving to God that He has made you know that death is not an end but an entrance into fuller, richer living. It is not a door to lead but the portal of everlasting life.

You can not yet see through the door, as you yearn to do, but the windows of your faith give you glimpses of the world beyond and you know that your dearest one is living into satisfactions and fulfillments which were out of reach on earth.

There is a deep and sustaining peace in the confidence that you are to be together there.

HOLD BRITISH DERBY AS WIDE OPEN RACE

LONDON, May 29.—(UPI)—The 1931 derby, to be run next Wednesday at Epsom Downs, appeared today to be an open race—more so than most derbys, and no colt is even a standout in the premier event of the turf.

Interest in the coming derby has been rising steadily all week and will reach its climax tomorrow, when the tickets are drawn for the $7,500,000 Irish Sweepstakes, with some two million ticket holders scattered over the world awaiting the results.

John B. Dewar's Cameronian remained the betting favorite today at odds of 4 to 1, but he has not caught the popular imagination.

His chief claim is based on his victory in the 2000 guineas at Newmarket, although he has not raced since then.

The contests will be judged by Harrison E. White, J. B. Tucker and "Tanglefoot" L. B. Stearns. Kenneth Kessler will start the races. He will be assisted by the Scoutmasters in lining up the scouts.

Ben Carey, Scoutmaster of troop No. 32, Fullerton, will be in charge of the construction of the trading post.

The Jamboree starts promptly at 7:30 p. m. All scouts are requested to be at the grounds by 7 p. m.

POLICE GET 5 FIND DRUGGISTS FOR BURGLARY NOT GUILTY IN GINGER CASES IN THREE DAYS

Santa Ana police have gone out for a record in the arrest of persons wanted for burglary. It was revealed today by Floyd W. Howard, chief of police, with the announcement that five persons had been arrested the past three days, charged with burglary.

The trial was started yesterday afternoon and the jury got the case at 5:36 p. m., deliberating until 10:20 p. m. before reaching a verdict.

The druggists contend that the jamacia ginger sold from their store was sold in good faith, in that it was sold in the same condition that it was purchased from wholesalers in Los Angeles, and that if there was any dilution, it was done before the goods were received in Santa Ana. They contend that they did not change the quality of the ginger after they purchased it.

Ball of $2500 was demanded in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court

Mr. O writes:

"Our old-time refrigerator bill was $3.60 per month; electric light was $2.50 to $3 per month. Since we bought our Electric Refrigerator, our total Electric Bill is $3 to $3.35. We figure that we get our light free."

Invest in an Electric Refrigerator. Ignore the added convenience of Electrical Refrigeration. Forget all about the luxury of having ice cubes and delicious ices whenever you want them. Disregard the satisfaction of having foods that taste better and are better. Think only of the savings...and you will own an Electric Refrigerator.

Only after you have had your Electric Refrigerator installed, however, can you appreciate all the dividends this investment will pay you:

Cash Dividends in savings on operating costs and elimination of food spoilage and waste.

Extra Dividends in convenience, in time saving, in labor saving.

Extra Dividends in the delight you and your family will enjoy in tempting desserts...pride in entertaining, with your Electric Refrigerator an entire catering department in itself. Freedom to go and come as you please, without worrying about foods spoiling or milk souring.

Invest in an Electric Refrigerator and collect all these dividends, every day, for years and years after your refrigerator is paid for and the cost is forgotten. Drop in this week, at your appliance dealer's or your Edison office...ask about the low cost and easy terms. Then arrange to have your Electric Refrigeration installed at once and begin collecting these dividends now.

L. A. INSTITUTE WORKER SPEAKS IN YORBA LINDA

"the world war," said Mrs. Hinote, "was when General Allenby opened the gates of Palestine for the return of the Jews. While the Zionist movement dates back to the Civil War, only in the past few years has the movement become general, and they are going back now in disbelief to meet the Anti-Christ." # CHICKEN GUMBO DINNER GIVEN TO D. A. V. UNIT

The chicken gumbo dinner enjoyed by members of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans and its auxiliary Wednesday night proved to be the most successful and pretentious meeting ever held by the Orange county D. A. V. unit.

A rousing reception was accorded Mr. and Mrs. Jules W. Markel who were alone responsible for this dinner and the success it enjoyed, as evidenced by the glowing tributes overheard throughout the Legion clubhouse last night. The assemblage also wished Mr. and Mrs. Markel a happy vacation when they depart in a few days for a visit to their old homeland at New Orleans, the home of chicken gumbo.

Louis A. Riehl, past commander of Jack Fisher chapter, served as master of ceremonies. W. H. Brown, commander of Sedgwick post, G. A. R., was given a warm welcome. Commander Brown gave an outline on the history of the G. A. R. and asked that the younger veteran organization take up the work and carry on. Mrs. W. H. Brown, president of the Women's Relief corps, spoke of the work done by this unit for the disabled veterans in Southern California hospitals. W. C. Dubois, representing the Spanish War Veterans, O. J. Stanbro, leader of Veterans of Foreign Wars, and W. Hunter Leach, commander of American Legion post No. 131, stressed the importance of 100 per cent co-operation among all veteran organizations to achieve desired results, especially regarding legislation for the disabled veterans. Grover Fultz, chef-de-gare of the Forty and Eight, was unavoidably absent.

W. B. Williams, T. E. Stephenson and C. E. Rutledge assured Jack Fisher chapter they would be only too willing to assist it in any manner when called on to do so.

Representing the D. A. V. organization from other chapters were William Conley, commander of Los Angeles Chapter No. 5; Ernest Gilchrist, commander of Redlands chapter and a former member of Jack Fisher chapter. H. E. Pinney, national executive committee man for this district, extended the Owens is said to have told officers that he broke into the place to "get even" with Goetz. He didn't say why. He was booked at the county jail on a burglary charge.

RADIO ARTISTS TO APPEAR IN PROGRAM HERE

Among coming events of interest to Santa Ana and Orange county people will be the appearance at the high school auditorium in this city on June 19 of Bill Sharpies and his gang, radio artists and entertainers from KNX, the Paramount pictures station in Hollywood.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of James W. Jamison has been filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs, values the estate at $3500.

An action on a promissory note, seeking judgment of $950 as the unpaid principal, plus interest and $100 attorney's fees, has been filed by the First National Bank of Artesia against K. M. Uchida, et al.

The estate of Millicent B. Hill is valued at $414.60 in the inventory and appraisal, which has been filed by John N. Anderson, appraiser.

Doris H. Miller is plaintiff in a suit which has been filed in superior court against Richard and Matilda Mossey. Judgment is asked for $1422.08 as the balance claimed to be due and unpaid on a promissory note, after proceeds from a sale of a trust deed had been applied.

The program, which is sponsored by the Home Builders class, an organization of some 75 young married people of the First Christian church of this city, will be in the nature of a replica of the Bill Sharpies breakfast party which is broadcast daily over KNX from 6:45 to 8:45 a. m., except that it will contain no advertising but will be purely of an entertaining nature. Radio fans will be given an opportunity to see and hear such artists as Pauline Holden, the Western girl; Bunola Kay, as Dolly Madison; Clarence Muse, the Negro star of radio and of talking pictures; Walter Reed, as Foo Ling, the Chinese laundryman; Little Willie, and a number of other outstanding radio personalities, comedians and musicians.

PACKING CONTEST FEATURE OF FAIR

One of the special features of the Orange County Valencia Orange Show and Fair that has become world famous is the world's championship orange packing contest, to be staged on five nights of the colorful citrus, industrial and agricultural exposition which will be thrown open to the public for the eleventh year, next Thursday in Anaheim.

Last year the Olive Heights Citrus association house at Olive captured the trophy through the prowess of Caroline Schulz Cabe and Vivian Van Norman, who registered 1763.85 points. Mrs. Cabe, then Miss Schulz, won the individual championship with 912.11 points.

Because of the increased interest in this year's contest, the competition will be held on five nights of the show.

Rules governing the competition are strict. Each house is limited to one team and members must have been bonafide employees of the house they represent for a period of at least two weeks prior to the show. Entries must be filed with the committee of which Ben Cole, of Olive, is chairman, at least five days before the contest begins.

Points will be scored on two packed boxes for which what is known as the 216 size oranges are used. Special wrappers are used in the contest. Wrappers must be twisted on bottoms, cracks and tops—the centers are tight wraps. Points will be awarded on speed, 40%; neatness, compactness and general appearances, 18%; twist, 9%; wrap, 12%; and prints, 21%.

The individual champion will receive the Express trophy and $50 in cash; second, $25; third, $20; fourth, $15; fifth, $10; sixth, $5; seventh, $3; eighth, $2.50; ninth, $2.00; tenth, $1.50; eleventh, $1.00 and twelfth, $5.

Competition will be staged between 7:30 and 8 o'clock on the nights of June 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

Court Notes

Jennie Romoff, Americanization teacher in the Anaheim Union High school, has filed suit for divorce from Isaac Romoff, wholesale fruit dealer, basing her complaint on charges of cruelty. They were married in New York City on June 2, 1911, and have two children. Mrs. Romoff asks the court for a restraining order to prevent the defendant from disposing of any of his cash or property and to prevent him from coming to her home in Anaheim. They separated last February.

Seal Beach Cafe Man Found Guilty Of Selling Booze

SEAL BEACH, May 29.—R. A. Moise, operator of a service station and lunch room at the corner of Electric avenue and the State highway at the east entrance to the city was convicted on a bootlegging charge when he appeared before Judge B. B. Brown yesterday afternoon.

A representative of the city police department visited the place of business maintained by Moise several days ago, and purchased a bottle of alleged liquor from him. Innocently accompanying his customer to his car following the purchase, Moise was placed under arrest, and taken to the police station. The bottle was placed on the counter while officers booked the prisoner, and with a deft movement, Moise knocked the bottle to the floor, officers said.

PAST WINNERS OF INDIANAPOLIS CLASSIC

Who will come roaring over the bricks as winner of the 1931 Indianapolis endurance race tomorrow? That question has thousands of motor racing fans guessing. Almost 40 drivers of the world's premier drivers will go to the starting line in this 50-mile classic.

HALL HAS BEST MARK IN SHOT: 3 CARDS NEXT

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—(UP)—Perfect weather and a perfect track greeted the more than 600 college athletes representing some 37 colleges when they trooped on Franklin field this afternoon for the qualifying trials of the 55th annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field games.

The sunshine was particularly welcome by California athletes.

Dean Cromwell, whose powerful Southern California team is favored to retain the title it won in 1930, said the weather was ideal for his Pacific coast competitors.

"It's almost as fine a weather as we have out our way," he said.

The track was lightning fast. There was no wind to handicap the runners.

Berkeley To Get Big IC4A Meet In '32

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 29.—(UP)—For the first time since their inception 55 years ago, the annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field games will be staged west of the Mississippi river in 1932.

Officials of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America decided last night to hold the fifty-sixth renewal of their outdoor meet in Berkeley, Cal., sometime between July 2 and 6. Lloyd W. George of the University of California officially invited the body to hold its next meet at the site of California's state university.

The three California schools have won the IC4A title nine times in the last ten years, Stanford, Southern California and the University of California, guaranteed association a total income of $65,000 for the two day affair. That amount is necessary to pay the expenses of the athletes from all sections of the country who will compete. Any amount taken in over $65,000 will go to the association.

40 DAREDEVILS SET FOR GRIND OF 500 MILES

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—Fastest, on the basis of their qualifying trials of any field ever entered in the 500-mile auto race, 40 drivers today were making final adjustments on their machines for the big event tomorrow.

Only two of the 40 made less than 100 miles per hour in the 10-mile preliminaries and one of those was an oil burner, a Cummins Diesel. An average of 101 miles an hour won the speedway classic last year for Billy Arnold of Chicago.

Arnold is one of the favorites and had the highest speed in the trials, 116 miles per hour. He is driving the same car as last year which has been changed slightly to give it an added speed of 12 miles an hour, he says.

Cummings Local Choice

A local choice is Bill Cummings who qualified an Empire State special at 112 miles an hour. Others apt to be in the money according to the experts are Louis Meyer, winner in 1928, and "Shorty" Cantion, both driving 16-cylinder machines. Youngsters to upset the old-timers are Francis Quinn, dirt-track driver from the Pacific coast, and Gene Haustein, Detroit, both driving Fords. Then there are Ralph Hepburn and Russell Snowberger.

The 150,000 persons expected to witness the race began moving into Indianapolis today and found the 40 drivers who will be in the starting lineup engaged in giving final touches to their machines.

The speedway was closed to spectators while workmen gave it the annual bath, removing oil and grease, which accumulated on the 1,300,000 bricks of the two-and-one-half mile oval during the speed trials, to reduce the hazards of skidding.

Drivers Work On Cars

The drivers have until sundown to get their automobiles into shape for the five-hour grind starting tomorrow at 10 a.m., central standard time. The machines were taken for final trial runs yesterday.

With a new era dawning because of the gradual passing of the veteran drivers in favor of young daredevils unheard of five years ago, the race promises to be one of the most spectacular in Speedway history, with the average times of the finishers setting a new high level, even if the threat to the course record does not materialize.

Additional color will be lent by the presence of 25 governors who will attend the governors' conference at French Lick next week. Weather forecasters were optimistic about the prospects of a pleasant day.

PACHTO HESS MEET IN HOLLYWOOD BOUT

HOLLYWOOD, May 29.—(UP)—

Bobby Pachto, Mexican lightweight, of El Centro, will meet "Goldie" Hess for the second time in a 10-round main event at the Hollywood American Legion arena tonight.

Although a youngster, Pachto has been developing fast and is given an even chance to defeat his more experienced and hard hitting opponent. The pair fought a draw here a month ago.

BABE STICKS

Last year Babe Ruth picked the Robins for seventh place. Uncle Robbie made an especial trip to the Yankee dugout one off day to ask him why.

This year the Babe picked the Robins to win the flag, and he has refused to change his mind in the face of the terrible start the Robins got. Your correspondent also picked the Robins this year, but is beginning to weaken under the strain. Those Giants look grand.

Huntington Beach	7	4	.625
Olive	5	6	.455

Garden Grove	5	6	.455
Long Beach	5	6	.333
Valencia	2	8	.222
North Long Beach	2	9	.182
Fullerton	1	10	.091

Friday's Schedule
Santa Ana at Anaheim; Garden Grove at Long Beach; North Long Beach at Whittier; Huntington Beach at Fullerton; Westminster at Olive.

Santa Ana's Stars put their 11 straight victories out on a limb again tonight when they go to Anaheim to face the only team in the whole shootin' match that has a ghost of a show of beating them out for the National Night Baseball league's first half champion.

Anaheim is now in the runner-up position to the undefeated champions. That the Valentines are no closer to Santa Ana has vexed fans in the Mother Colony considerably, for this was supposed to be Anaheim's year, but a victory over Santa Ana, especially one that would terminate a spirited winning streak, would almost satisfy the hungry "wolves" who have been beaten by Manager George Pace.

Stars Three Games Ahead

Santa Ana is in the driver's seat, of course. George Lackey has his club so far out in front of the pack that it can lose a game and still be sitting pretty but none of the others, particularly Anaheim, can drop one and hope to finish the first half ahead. Naturally the pressure will be on the underdogs tonight.

Joe Cornelius has been nominated to pitch for Santa Ana.

BLOOD PRESSURE MAY BE REDUCED

High blood pressure is not only dangerous, but entails suffering which often is needless. But you can get rid of the kidney and bladder weakness, blinding headaches, back-break pains and torturing nerve tension while reducing pressure.

Ask your druggist for a box of Wildunger Tee, which contains valuable mineral salts from the famous Wildunger Bad in Germany. Unless the very first box brings grateful, comforting relief, your money back.

A New York doctor while traveling in Germany was so impressed with the results thousands were securing from this great kidney and bladder activator that he brought Wildunger Tee to this country. Many American doctors now prescribe it and report that its benefits are equally surprising here.

You can get Wildunger Tee on the distinct understanding that unless it helps, your money will be refunded to you. It may be had at C. S. Kelley, druggist, 101 East 4th street, Santa Ana.—Adv.

CONTINUE DRILLING IN DEEP TEST WELL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 29.—The McCaslin deep test well at Twenty-first and Olive streets in the town lot section has drilled 40 feet beyond the place where the fishing job delayed operations for weeks and is making satisfactory drilling progress. The well is seeking the "vaceros" sand, estimated to be about 7500 to 7700 feet deep.

The Superior Oil company, which has three wells cemented on the sand, has announced that no more deep wells will be drilled in the field until after one of the wells now standing cemented has been drilled in and given a production test. No announcement as to when this drilling in and testing will be done is forthcoming.

The field is quiet, with half a dozen wells redrilling in the old field and the town lot field, but none of them at a depth where any interesting developments can be expected.

Arrange Concert At Fullerton High

ANAHEIM, May 29.—For the second time the hearing in the case of Eddie Rivero, charged with holding up the Smart and Final store here on January 28, when he is asserted to have pointed a gun at William P. Dunlap, manager of the store, and escaped with about $500 in cash and checks, was postponed by Judge Frank Tausch in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon. The next hearing will be held on June 8.

Complications in the case have ensued because of the asserted striking resemblance between Rivero and his cousin, who is called George Descamps. Defense Attorney Kennedy declared that Rivero has been tried in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles on similar charges and that they have been dismissed in both instances. After being tried in Anaheim, if Rivero is freed, he will be taken to San Francisco to face a similar charge.

It is said that Descamps, who is in San Quentin serving time for robbery charges, worked in the same method as described by Dunlap, although Dunlap has testified that he believed Rivero to be the man who held him up, although he would not swear to it.

ORANGE, May 29.—The Missionary Message of the Stars was given by Miss Katherine Logan, of Long Beach, at the union meeting under the auspices of the Orange Ministerial union, held at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock last night.

The Rev. Franklin H. Minck Sei Kim, honorary member of the Rotary club of Hong Kong, China, and executive director of the West-Lake Tuberculosis sanitarium at Hangchow, China, was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club held yesterday noon in the American Legion hall.

C. C. Hills, program chairman of the day, introduced Dr. Kim, telling something of the work he was doing in China and of his personal history. Dr. Kim is a native of Korea and is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins university, having been graduated from that institution with both M. D. and Doctor of Public Health degrees.

Dr. Kim's subject was "Diagnosis and Prognosis of China," and during his speech brought out some interesting facts regarding that country. He declared that he was on a world tour, the object of which was to develop an organized effort to fight tuberculosis in China. There are 6,000,000 people in China that are ill with various diseases, he declared, 85 per cent of which have tuberculosis. Contrasted with the United States' death rate, China is in a most deplorable condition, he said. In China the death rate from tuberculosis is 35 out of every 1000 cases while in the United States it amounts to but 12 deaths out of every 1000 cases, he said.

There are few tuberculosis sanatoriums in China and practically no organized effort on sanitation problems. People afflicted with the disease in China are dependent upon such efforts as Dr. Kim is making for any care that they get, he declared.

Three new members were accepted into the club during the course of the meeting. President Dr. James Crawford introduced the new members and made a brief speech, welcoming them into the club and presenting them with their club pins and framed code of ethics. The new members are L. F. Robinson, C. C. Hills and Frank Fiske.

Visitors at the meeting were E. B. Sharpe, Santa Ana; John M. Barnhart, Huntington Beach; T. R. Cassidy, Huntington Beach; Ray Crenshaw, Robert Brown and Harvey Gardener, all of Santa Ana.

VILLA PARK, May 29.—Mrs. J. M. Gillogly and little Gilbert, of Vista, visited friends here recently.

Miss Margaret Holditch has returned home after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gillogly at Vista.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cress and son, Ben, of Dinuba, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Hively for a few days. Mrs. Cress is Mr. Hively's sister.

Guests in the Harold Richardson and William Hively homes are Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Austin, of El Centro.

Miss Charlotte Skiles, who has been very ill for some time, was at church Sunday morning.

Mrs. T. G. Bratsch, of Villa Park, assisted her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd A. Baker, of Orange, who entertained with a shower at her home at 533 Jefferson street Saturday afternoon, complimenting Miss Gladys Stoneman, of Santa Ana, who will become the bride of Chester Bratsch June 27. Other guests from Villa Park were Mrs. W. E. Marsh and Miss Marguerite Marsh.

Oliver Hillside Groves association plans to ship over 1000 carloads of valencias this season, 80 of which have already been shipped. The house has been open for business since May 1 and is employing 300 people in the field and in the packing house. Ben Cole, manager of the association, declared that while the present market was somewhat depressed, he believed that with regulation of shipments to suit the prevailing conditions, the market would experience a healthy reaction.

The Consolidated Orange Growers' association will ship over 850 cars of valencias during the season. The house has shipped 35 cars to date, opening May 12. Frank Collins, manager, declared that he believed that within two weeks time a decided improvement in the market for valencias would be noted, saying that the Florida oranges were still in the market and were offering competition. The house employs 175 people both in the field and in the packing house.

The Santiago Orange Growers' association expects to ship over 1500 cars of valencias this year and has shipped 160 cars so far this season. About 12,000 boxes have been exported to foreign countries.

Four hundred persons are employed, according to Bob Gross, manager.

Olive Hillside Groves association plans to ship 250 cars of valencias this season and has already shipped 35 cars. Frank Maxwell, manager of the association, declared that while the market was a little slow at the present time he looked for an improvement within a week or 10 days. The association has exported an average of 1000 boxes a week since opening. The association employs 75 people.

Villa Park Orchards association expects to ship 600 cars of valencias this season and has shipped 45 cars thus far.

The association is employing 150 people in the packing house and in the field. Herb Nichols, manager of the association, declared that Florida fruit is still filling the market and that he expected the market to show a decided improvement within a month. The new pre-cooling plant recently completed is expected to effect a saving to growers and to help in marketing the fruit, he declared.

Coast Group Committee Approves New Water Program

BOULDER DAM
PROJECT ALSO GETS SUPPORT

The Orange County Coast association water committee, of which Hugh O'Connor, of Los Alamitos, is chairman, met at the Golden Bear cafe last night for a dinner and a discussion of the water situation.

Following the discussion the chairman appointed a committee to make a report to the Coast association at its next meeting, the third Monday in June, at Laguna Beach. The committee is composed of Thomas Murphine, San Clemente; H. L. Sherman, Newport Beach; Elmer Hughes, Seal Beach; T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach; Aaron Buchheim, San Juan Capistrano; Frank Champion, Laguna Beach.

The Prado dam plan for flood control and saving of flood waters, was endorsed, as well as the Metropolitan water district. The Prado dam provides for a dam near Chester to be 92 feet high and to impound 180,000 acre feet of water. All cities and districts were urged to come into the Metropolitan water district for the division of the Colorado river water apportioned to this part of California.

H. L. Sherman, Newport Beach, civil engineer, stated that there might be some argument or claim from the water right owners of the Santa Ana river above the damsite to a share of the flood waters, and that would be a question to be settled.

J. W. Mitchell, county supervisor and chairman of the board, following Sherman's talk, said the supervisors could not make changes in the Prado dam plans, but it was explained that the plans presented by Sherman were the same plans explained by the supervisors and approved by their engineers. Talbert summed up the history of Orange county's struggle for water.

It was pointed out by speakers at the committee meeting that the recent rain raised the water level in wells in the lower Santa Ana river valley 10 feet. This was pointed out as evidence that the flood waters under natural conditions, if detained or saved, would keep up the water level in the valley.

Harry Welch of Newport Beach said that the sentiment as expressed by many speakers at the Orange County Coast association meetings favored any plan which the county supervisors would adopt, and pledged the loyal support of the association to the supervisors in their efforts to solve the water problem for Orange county.

Thomas Murphine said that while the plans did not directly benefit San Clemente, that city would support any project for the good of the whole county, realizing that what helped the entire county benefitted San Clemente also.

Several speakers deplored the suit which has been brought to the domestic water supply from the Santa Ana river valley. The speakers said that a broader view of the matter should be taken and Laguna Beach and that portion of the coast should not be deprived of a city water supply.

Other speakers pointed out that the Irvine ranch interests held a half interest in the Laguna Beach water line, by virtue of paying half the cost of the line to help the city obtain an adequate water supply. The ranch interests, it was stated, are not receiving any of the water transported through the line and so far have had no benefit whatever from the water line, although paying half the construction expense. It was also pointed out that the ranch interests have valuable acreage deserving of development that water in ample quantities will bring.

The sentiment as expressed by speakers was that Orange county work together as a whole to bring about the construction of a water project for the whole county which will serve the county needs until the Boulder dam water can be brought here. The putting aside of factional jealousies was urged by the speakers.

It was also stressed that the Chester dam or Prado dam was only the first unit of a broad plan to provide water for all parts of Orange county, with Riverside county and San Bernardino county co-operating in future additions and extensions to the project, which eventually will give a vast area of fertile land ample water to bring the entire area under cultivation.

BLOWER NAMED
STUDENT HEAD
AT POLY HIGH

Floyd Blower, star athlete at the Santa Ana High school, was swept into the office of student body president in the election yesterday, winning by a large majority over Addison Bowers, his opponent.

Blower will succeed Minor Whitford as the head of student activities. He is football captain-elect, captain of the baseball team and a star on the track and basketball teams. He has been serving on the boys' self-government committee for the past semester.

Another election will have to be held Monday because no candidate received a majority of votes in four offices. Dorothy Hatch and George Munro will run for the office of vice president, leaving the two highest in the balloting yesterday. For secretary, Ruth Jenkins and Marian Brownridge will be in the finals.

John Johnston and Robert Tanenbaum will contest for the office of commissioner of finance. Earl Motley and Dick Gardner will run for commissioners of publications.

Max Wilson will take over the duties of commissioner of athletics by his close majority over Clarence Patmore. John McFarland was victorious over Walter Krings for commissioner of finances. In the race for boys' self-government committee, Paul Jackson and Bob Spurgeon were winners while Leora Hatch and Barbara Copeland won in the girls' self-government over Ruth Owens, Marian Hawk and Betty Smedley. A special amendment to the constitution creating the office of commissioner of women's athletics on the board of control was passed.

THREE-MILE PIPE
LINE FOR PROPERTY

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 29.—Walter Greening, owner of a 1600-acre tract of land north and west of this place, has under construction a three-mile stretch of 14-inch concrete pipe, which will be used to supply irrigation water to the property.

The Greening well, located on the Trabuco, has been enlarged to produce double capacity and a 125 horsepower engine, operated by electricity, will pump the water through the new line of pipe to the reservoir on top of a hill overlooking the property.

Stoffle and Brown, owners of Capistrano Acres, have installed a 50 horsepower booster pump to lift water to their reservoir on the property.

TO DWARF LOS ANGELES CITY HALL

The giant Hoover dam, as it will look when completed, is shown below. It will impound 30,500,000 more feet of water to insure regular supply for 14 cities of the Metropolitan Water district, which will build a 266-mile aqueduct from the Colorado river to the Coastal plain. Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton are Orange county cities which have joined the district. When completed, the dam will be taller than the Los Angeles city hall.

OFFERS GLASS
IN ORCHESTRA
PLAYING HERE

School students who contemplate playing instruments in school orchestra next year will be interested in an announcement made today by W. G. Axworthy, orchestra director, who has made plans to have two courses in orchestra playing at the Y. M. C. A. during the summer.

Course No. 1 will be for all beginners and will be held between 7 and 9 p.m. every Monday beginning June 1 and continuing until the last Monday in August.

Course No. 2 will be for all advanced students and will be held at the same hours, every Tuesday night beginning June 2. Music in this course will consist of numbers played by the ordinary high school orchestra.

Axworthy resides at 1308 North Baker street, Santa Ana, and is director of the Orange county elementary school orchestra.

NAME ADOPTED

PLACENTIA, May 29.—The name of Placentia 4-H club was adopted by members of that organization at their regular meeting in the Chamber of Commerce hall Thursday evening, following the reading and adoption of the constitution.

Ten boys were present at the meeting with their leader, Virgil Stocking, and after the business session, games were played. Several of the members are planning project exhibits at the county fair and orange show.

In the illustration above is an artist's conception of how the titanic structure will look when finished. The buildings below the dam and on the canyon wall are huge hydro-electric plants which are to develop approximately 1,000,000 horsepower of energy.

Behind this massive barrier will be impounded 30,500,000 acre feet of water—a lake 110 miles long.

To cities that are to be served by the 266-mile Colorado River aqueduct of the Metropolitan Water district, the dam is of two-fold importance—first, because that great lake will insure a regular, sufficient flow of water down the river to Parker, where the aqueduct's intake is to be, and second, because the electric energy developed there will make possible the lifting of Southern California's water over hills on the course of the great conduit.

School Exhibit
Set for Tuesday

PLACENTIA, May 29.—The annual school exhibit of the Bradford avenue school has been postponed and will be held in conjunction with the last P.T.A. meeting of the year, Tuesday afternoon.

The exhibit of school work in all rooms and departments will be held from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock, followed immediately by the P.T.A. program, which will feature a dress parade and a playlet under the direction of Miss Mabel Anderson, domestic science teacher.

Committee reports and reports of officers for the past year will be heard, and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

The executive board meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. at the new home of Mrs. Carlson, on Walnut place.

GIRLS' CLUB MEETS

PLACENTIA, May 29.—The regular meeting of the Eteri Girls' club of Calvary church was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Henry, Jefferson road, following a chicken pie dinner served by Mrs. Henry, who was assisted by Mrs. W. B. Howard. Thirty-six girls were present with their leader, Miss Irene Hunt.

LEGAL HISTORY OUTLINED FOR SERVICE CLUB

He explained that the community property theory concerning property of a man and wife in California comes from the old Spanish influence and differs widely from the English law.

Gompert, who was the guest of Sheriff Logan Jackson, made a short talk explaining how crime prevention has become a definite scientific problem with extensive laboratories for study and experiment, and he told of the test which has been worked out to enable police to determine whether a dead man had fired the shot which ended his life or whether it had been fired by another person. "When a small arm is fired," he said, "gasses are created at extremely high pressure and some of the gasses are forced back over the hand holding the weapon, carrying some of the residue of the gunpowder. With various reagents we can determine definitely if any of the nitrates or nitrites of gunpowder are on a hand, and so determine whether or not that hand held the gun that ended a life."

Los Angeles county maintains research laboratories containing equipment valued at $45,000 and staffed with three men, he said.

The musical feature of the meeting yesterday was furnished by the Cozad drum corps of six pieces, which played several martial and patriotic airs.

Hommer Chaney, club president, announced that the annual installation of officers will be held at the Pacific club in Long Beach on June 18.

Warburton On San Diego Park Board

Harry Warburton, realtor, 6080 El Cajon avenue, was named by Mayor Austin and confirmed by the city council last Monday as a member of the park board of San Diego.

Mr. Warburton is one of the most prominent residents of the eastern section of the city and has long been vitally interested in better parks for this district and has always taken a very prominent part in the upbuilding of eastern San Diego.

IN INSOLVENT STATE

KNOXVILLE—Someone in the office of L. D. Smith, state attorney general, made a comical error in a brief read in Federal Judge Taylor's court on an injunction plea. "The sovereign state of Tennessee," as dictated by Smith, became "The solvent state of Tennessee." Smith is still looking for the stenographer.

OFFICIALS ARE BUSY ENTERING DESERT RACERS

With the night of the big desert classic drawing near, all racing strollers under the personal direction of Commander W. Hunter Leach and his racing Chairman Wm. (Bill) Penn, are busily engaged listing the horn toad entries that are coming into headquarters from the many prominent firms and individuals of Santa Ana. These are entering the "cactus ponies" for the races that will be run the night of June 6th, in the Legion hall, the winners of which will participate in a purse of $100 cash.

Every day at the training quarters located in the Medlock building, at Main and Fifth streets, crowds gather to watch these diminutive desert racers go through their training paces, and marvel at the speed of these little creatures with their "underslung" bodies as they go galloping out of the training ring, apparently enjoying the appreciation and affection bestowed upon them by their gentle trainers at the end of each trial heat.

Entries from out of the state are arriving for this race and only yesterday a prominent physician and sportsman of Phoenix, Ariz., sent "Regal Boy," the pride and joy of his stable of racing toads, who upon being turned loose from his shipping crate, seemed to enjoy the California sunshine and the other members of his family. He's a beautiful copper-colored horn toad, a full brother to "Good Times" another entry from the Arizona territory.

Spanish War Veterans And Auxiliary Share Pleasant Events

Recent matters of importance to Calumet camp and auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, included the attendance of about 75 members at memorial services, in the Spurgeon Memorial church, last Sunday morning and their regular monthly pot-luck dinner and entertainment in the Knights of Columbus hall on Tuesday evening.

At the memorial services, the Rev. C. M. Aker, whose brother was a Spanish American War Veteran, delivered the address and the audience was further entertained by listening to two vocal solos by Lillian Reeves Hubbard and songs by the church choir.

At the pot-luck dinner, the tables were decorated with bouquets of roses and dahlias and "noodles" was the principal dish. Commander DuBois received applause by complimenting the committee and saying that they "knew their noodles." During the dinner, William E. Marsh and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Erickson were congratulated on the occasion being their birthdays and Mrs. Erickson, president of the auxiliary, was presented with a cake lighted by many tapers as well as a set of topaz goblets and sherberts and a fruit bowl presented by the auxiliary. It was also announced that Miss Norma Tantinger, daughter of Past Commander W. W. Tantinger, had won one of the two scholarships at Pomona from a field of 27 from all parts of the country. Those who are to furnish flowers for decoration of graves are to deliver them at the home of President Erickson, 1041 West Sixth street, Santa Ana, on Friday afternoon, in order that the wreaths and bouquets may be made up that evening.

In the meeting hall, there was displayed on the altar, the auxiliary drill team at Vallejo. It bore the inscription, "First Prize, Presented by Henry W. Lawton Camp No. 1, U. S. W. V. to Calumet Drill Team, Vallejo, 1931."

The entertainment opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, followed by an old-fashioned spelling bee between the men and the women and in which the men were declared the winners. Then came a "footrace" wherein Charles E. Chatlain and Mrs. Bess Moberly won the prizes. Mrs. Moberly also won the prize in "bum-combe" after a close contest with Sherman Glaze. After the games there was dancing and cards.

The committees having charge of the delightful affair were: Mrs. Bertha Helm, chairman; assisted by Mrs. Lulu Chatlain, Mrs. Cloe Showalter, Mrs. Ross Bauer, Miss Edith Dugdale, Charles E. Chatlain, William H. Showalter, Henry Helm and Walter Horton. The camp and auxiliary members are to assemble at the soldier's monument in Fairhaven cemetery, Saturday morning for Memorial Day services.

Recipe for Persimmon Ice Cream

Looking through some old letters from readers today, I came across one which had in it a fine recipe for making Persimmon Ice Cream, and I am publishing it for the lady who wrote me for recipes that utilized this fruit.

PERSIMMON ICE CREAM

1 cup persimmon pulp (raw)
1 1/2 cups sugar (powdered)
Juice of 1 lemon
1 tall can evaporated milk

The directions say to whip the milk before adding to the fruit and sugar if a vacuum freezer is used, so assume that this recipe was designed for the crank type of freezer. Since that time so many women have installed mechanical refrigerators this recipe will have to be brought up to date. But that's easy.

If you wish to use the evaporated milk, just set the can in hot water and boil it for an hour, chill before opening, then whip as you would fresh cream. The dessert will be very rich and good, but equally so, if you use fresh whipping cream. Stir the cream a few times while it is freezing.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CRABMEAT AND TOMATO JELLY SALAD
1 1/2 pound can of crabmeat
3 hard cooked eggs
1 head of celery
1 small green pepper
2 cans tomato hot sauce
Juice of 1 lemon
Grated onion for flavoring
2 tablespoons gelatine
Hearts of lettuce
Sliced cucumber
Mayonnaise

That's an imposing list of ingredients but when we get through sorting them they won't look so formidable. First, let's make the tomato jelly.

Soak the gelatine in one-fourth cup cold water until soft, then melt it over hot water. Add to the two cans of tomato hot sauce with about a teaspoonful of grated onion, lemon juice, salt and pepper to season. Pour the jelly into a pan to harden. Have it about half an inch deep in the pan.

PUTTING SALAD TOGETHER
Open the can of crabmeat and take it, not too fine. Cut the eggs into quarters and dust with paprika and chopped parsley. Peel the cucumber, score sides with a fork and slice thin. Shred fine the celery and green pepper. Toss the crabmeat, celery and green pepper in a bowl and moisten with a little mayonnaise.

Arrange hearts of lettuce on salad plate, put a little pile of the crabmeat in the center and around it.

Tavern Tattlers Elect Officers For New Semester

Miss Elizabeth Skiles was chosen new president of Tavern Tatters, literary club of Santa Ana junior college, and Bernard Sharpley, vice president, while Miss Jane Cunningham was elected secretary-treasurer when the organization met Tuesday night in the library of the college.

Reviews of Greek comedies were given by Miss Alice Myers who spoke on the life and works of Aristophanes while Miss Dulcie Green gave a resume of "The Clouds" by Aristophanes. Miss Elva Cook talked on the rise and development of Greek comedy. Miss Betty James and Miss Carolyn Haughton read their initiation papers and Miss Haughton read a series of resolutions on Thomas Hall Glenn's leave of absence for a year. Mr. Glenn is the advisor and as yet no one has been selected to fill his position.

Members present were the Misses Betty James, Dulcie Green, Helen Campbell, Jane Cunningham, Gladys Earley, Phyllis O'Connor, Carolyn Haughton, Elizabeth Skiles, Elva Cook, Alice Myers and Ruth Gardner and Messrs. Wilton Hilliard, Bernard Sharpley, Robert Marshall and T. H. Glenn.

College Classes Visit Famous Library at San Marino

Taking advantage of the privilege extended to the public by the Henry E. Huntington trustees, members of the English literature and library science classes of Santa Ana junior college visited the famous Huntington Library and Art Gallery at San Marino yesterday afternoon.

In the afternoon after going through the buildings and examining the many treasures of art and the manuscripts in the two buildings, the group wandered over the huge estate visiting the picturesquely Japanese garden just when evening shadows were falling. Of much interest too were the formal garden and the cactus garden.

Students making the trip with the instructor, Mrs. Robert Northcross, were the Misses Betty Maloney, Elva Cook, Alice Myers, Marcia Elliott, Vernell Butler, Helen King, Mary Todd Tate, Jean Anderson, Elizabeth Skiles, Nadine Maslin, Gladys Lloyd, Thelma Glasscock, Grace Lloyd, Virginia Vau, Audrey Teel, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Dan E. Maloney.

Charlotte Greenwood, elongated comedienne of "So Long Letty," and "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," and Reginald Denny, one of the screen's most famous farceurs, start the fun in the filmization of the Elmer Harris stage hit.

The story deals with two millionaires, played by Denny and Harry Stubbs, who come to Hollywood, back a picture, meet some gold-diggers and get into trouble with their wives—who flee to California to go them one better.

Denny and Stubbs as the husbands have a wealth of comedy material, and Miss Greenwood as the aggressive wife of the stouter of the two philanderers has some screamingly funny situations. Leila Hyams plays Denny's wife and theirs is the romantic side of the collection of giggles and guffaws.

Gym Class Members Hold Successful Surprise Party

Mrs. Ray Snyder's boast that she had never yet been surprised at a party, has had to be forfeited for members of the Tuesday Morning Gym class made festive party plans with such secrecy that their arrival Tuesday night at the Snyder home, 813 North Olive street, found Mrs. Snyder completely off her guard, and the delighted victim of a friendly surprise for the first time in her life.

A merry evening followed, and the guests, arrayed in vivid pajama costumes, entered with spirit into plans for a succession of lively games. Special entertainment features were contributed by Mrs. A. A. Granan with her clever readings, and Mrs. Marie Fowler with piano selections. As the evening drew to a close, the final surprise was introduced when Mrs. H. Baum, of Anaheim, produced as though by magic, a freezer of delicious homemade strawberry ice cream, and Mrs. Orville Northrup, Mrs. Ray Livespire and Mrs. Henry Wagner, by the same magic, added three rich cakes so that the refreshment problem was settled in her most satisfactory manner.

Adding interest to the occasion was the fact that Mrs. Snyder was entertaining a house-guest, Miss Emma Shultz of Hollywood, who shared the evening's pleasures with the guests, Mesdames Clara Walton, H. H. Richards, Frank Latham, A. H. Machander, Harry Gardner, Roy Gowdy, Ray Livespire, Henry Wagner, H. Baum, Clarence Vogle, John Curran, Jesse Elliott, I. Underwood, C. W. Trusty, Louis Allen, Marie Fowler, Orville Northrup, Harry Woodruff, A. A. Granas, R. R. Russick and Miss Clara Richards.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lally, Mr. Lally Jr., Jack Lally and his fiancee, Miss Fillian Flum, Mr. and Mrs. B. Prober, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sklar, all of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mrs. Emil Major, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan White and Mr. and Mrs. Fein and Harry Sidney Fein, this city.

Benefit Luncheon Is Successful Affair

Claimed by all committee chairmen as a successful financial affair in addition to its pleasant social features, was the benefit bridge luncheon held early this week by the Woodrow Wilson P. T. A. at Kilpatrick's bakery. Almost $30 was realized from the party and Mrs. C. L. Williamson scored first and second high.

Those present, other than Mrs. Logue were Mrs. Hartley, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Mary Flanagan, Miss Anne Flanagan, Mrs. R. Langenbeck, Mrs. Gilleepie, Mrs. Ben Lieberman, Mrs. C. J. Fenster, Mrs. Leavitt Ford, Mrs. R. E. Mrs. Paul Olmstead and Mrs. George Doolittle.

There are portions for six in the recipe, each with calories totaling about 240. If mineral oil salad dressing is used this total is reduced one-half leaving the salad ideal for those who are a trifle overweight.

Simple Summer Desserts, the current leaflet, has recipes and ideas that will save you lots of hot cooking when the thermometer is on the up and up. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a free copy, today and tomorrow overweight.

MURDER FILM SCENE

"Charlie Chan Carries On," now playing at the Fox Broadway theater is one of the most interesting murder mysteries seen here in a long time. In the picture are the principals, John Garrick, Marguerite Churchill and Warner Oland.

'SUBWAY EXPRESS' NEW MURDER FILM

examination finds out that the murdered man was not shot. The denouement is startling and unexpected and one that defies anticipation. And its development brings out not only thrilling suspense but rich humor and particularly strong characterization.

Jack Holt, as Inspector Killian, gives a splendid performance and is ably supported by Aileen Pringle who has the feminine lead. Especially strong character bits are contributed by Jason Robards, Fred Kelsey, William Humphrey and Ethel Wales.

The TINYMITES

STORY & HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNUCKLE

The Tinies looked around the place, they watched the Jap work on the vase. It was the largest vase they'd ever seen, 'bout six feet tall. Said Clowny, "I'll bet, if I tried, that I could easily crawl inside. And think of what a crash 'twould make, it that big thing should fall."

Another Tiny cried, "Well, gee, imagine what a sight to see if they should fill it up with flowers. 'Twould make an awful lot. 'Twould be no fun, I have a hunch, to try and pick so large a bunch. And then, when picked, you simply couldn't lift them, like as not."

The Jap, with a smile on his face, kept carving on the monstrous vase. And then he told the Tinies, "There's a treat that's still to come. I'll finish carving shortly and then stain the vase up very grand. I have some brilliant colors and I'll gladly show you some."

The staining work was shortly done and watching was a heap of fun. The man was quite an artist,

Rioting in Italy

The action of the young Fascists in Rome in their demonstration against members of the Catholic organization and property of Catholic groups is nothing short of amazing. It is as discreditable to Premier Mussolini as anything else which has come out of Italy since he took charge of its affairs.

In the light of the fact that Mussolini rules, as everyone knows, with an iron hand, to imagine that the young people would have made such a demonstration or that the guards would have permitted them to go to the lengths which they did, had they not felt that Mussolini was momentarily "turning his back" and interested in something else for the moment, is beyond reason.

Mussolini himself probably sees now that he has been hurt more than has the Catholic hierarchy, and he is passing the word down the line that no more demonstrations must be permitted. To be sure, this demonstration is surprising in other respects, for it evidences that there must be a great number of the youth of Italy who are hostile to the Catholic church, and it evidences that Mussolini himself is not out of harmony with their hostility.

It is surprising in the light of the fact that undoubtedly these young people have been reared in Catholic homes. They are not Protestants. Neither is Mussolini. He is not loyal to any religion. But whatever one's opinions may be concerning the contest between the church and Mussolini, particularly over the youth of Italy, riotous actions and a hatred found in declarations such as "Down with the Pope" and "Death to the Pope," do not help a cause in the long run, even if the cause has elements of justice in it. Such things are destructive activities. If Mussolini and his position are right, his ends can be achieved by soberness and reasoning, not by rioting and destruction of property.

He has gained nothing and lost much by this action. His is the mind and the will of the dictator. Those who differed with him, critics, members of the Masonic organization, have been rooted out ruthlessly, without a consideration of personal elements, the liberty of the individual or the principles of private property. Temporarily they ran athwart his path. When the Catholic organization does the same thing, he permits his followers to commit sabotage. There will come a time when "a fellow needs a friend."

If the Franco-Italian naval discord is ever patched up, truce would be stranger than fiction.

Approaching Eternity

Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks, president of Baylor University at Waco, Texas, passed away a few days ago. On his death bed he wrote a few words that might be given to the members of the graduating class and other students of his institution.

After the 279 graduates had received their diplomas, they read the short message which he had written. It is worth repeating. He said:

I stand on the border of mortal life, but I face eternal life. I look backward to the years of the past to see all pettiness, all triviality shrink into nothing and disappear. Adverse criticism has no meaning now. Only the worthwhile things, the constructive things, the things that have been built for the good of mankind and the glory of God count now.

There is beauty, there is joy and there is laughter in life—as there ought to be. But, remember, my students, not to regard lightly nor to ridicule the sacred things, those worthwhile things.

How much these words remind us of the profound sentiment expressed by the martyr nurse, Edith Cavell, in her final statement just before her death, when she said: "Standing as I do in view of God and eternity, I realize that patriotism is not enough; I must have no hatred or bitterness toward anyone."

It is well that at times we ponder the sentiment that comes from the heart of those who know that they are just passing the threshold into the eternal morning.

Divorcees Trek

The news dispatches state that prospective divorcees from Reno are planning to make an excursion into California, and to be gone from their habitation about 22 hours. According to the divorce law of Nevada, prospective divorcees would lose their residence if they were gone more than a day from their homes.

Then they would have to start all over again to establish the residence of six weeks and my! six weeks is an awful long time to wait for a divorce! Can any one imagine a greater catastrophe occurring than a wreck or something that should delay this group, so that they would be absent for 24 hours and 45 minutes?

They would have to begin their long sojourn anew, and the new prospective bride or groom waiting for him or her around the corner or maybe in the same hotel, will be greatly inconvenienced, don't you know?

Still Playing Politics

It has come to our notice that Dr. Toner, state director of institutions, declares that in retaliation for objections by various citizens to the removal of Dr. Scudder as Superintendent of the Whittier State School, that he, Dr. Toner, is going to give some sensational exposures.

Well, the state is waiting. People are noting that the heads of institutions, trained in their work, are being thrown out summarily and men whose records are far from being an evidence that they are prepared for such responsibilities are placed in their stead.

There is more than a suspicion that the whole thing is being done in the interest of the political machine, and the institutions of the state are being prostituted to the payment of political debts.

If things have been bad in these institutions, and the heads of them have done wrong, the facts should be known, so as to remove the suspicion and set things right in the state. If it is not true that orders have come down to the heads of the institutions to make places for some of the "boys," namely, the ones who want jobs in return for supporting Governor Rolph, the facts should be known. Our institutions should be kept sacred to fulfill the purposes for which they were created.

As a part of the political activity and something of the same character, it is noted that there is a contest on over the appointment of a director of agriculture, because the state Board of Agriculture wants a man particularly fitted for the position, while the Governor seems inclined to appoint a man whose primary qualification, so the board feels, is that he supported Governor Rolph as a candidate. The agricultural board feels that the interest of agriculture should be considered.

It is surprising in the light of the fact that undoubtedly these young people have been reared in Catholic homes. They are not Protestants. Neither is Mussolini. He is not loyal to any religion. But whatever one's opinions may be concerning the contest between the church and Mussolini, particularly over the youth of Italy, riotous actions and a hatred found in declarations such as "Down with the Pope" and "Death to the Pope," do not help a cause in the long run, even if the cause has elements of justice in it. Such things are destructive activities. If Mussolini and his position are right, his ends can be achieved by soberness and reasoning, not by rioting and destruction of property.

He has gained nothing and lost much by this action. His is the mind and the will of the dictator. Those who differed with him, critics, members of the Masonic organization, have been rooted out ruthlessly, without a consideration of personal elements, the liberty of the individual or the principles of private property. Temporarily they ran athwart his path. When the Catholic organization does the same thing, he permits his followers to commit sabotage. There will come a time when "a fellow needs a friend."

If the Franco-Italian naval discord is ever patched up, truce would be stranger than fiction.

The Polished Ozarks

New York Times

In this day of wonders it is not surprising to read in another column today that tourists bent on trout-fishing, golf, swimming and tennis in an assuredly cool summer climate are beginning to streak it over broad concrete roads for the Ozark mountains of Missouri. The St. Louis dispatch which tells of luxurious clubhouses and sumptuous hotels on mountain brows, where barefoot hillbillies were supposed to be the sole inhabitants, sets another mark in the progress of the backward areas of the United States. From the early American humorists to Orie Read, and in many newspaper articles thereafter, the Ozarks have been represented as the lonesome hunting ground of the hound dog, the last covert of the Southwestern mountaineer who could unfailingly "hit a squirrel in the eye at a hundred paces." Now, due to the fact that the inhabitants have been persuaded of the natural summer advantages of their region, a beautiful tourist land has been made. Missouri is as proud of it as Michigan of the Mackinac country, or New York of the Adirondacks.

Of course, vaudeville performers, imaginative playwrights and some journalists will not be affected by this change for years to come. The old jokes will still be told. Of the Ozark boy, leaving for a party, who, when ordered to throw the contents of a dinner over his feet, said: "Shucks, Maw, if I had known I had tuh fix up I wouldn't of gone to the durned party." Of the squirrels which never dared come lower in a tree than 150 feet. Of the stills, the feuds, and the citizens who will not believe that Champ Clark is dead. But St. Louis and Kansas City are important communities, with newspapers of wide circulation and close contact with the metropolitan centers in the rest of the country. The more use their citizens make of the rejuvenated highlands of Missouri, the more outsiders will hear of it.

Aviation Progress Shows Important Development

San Bernardino Sun

The department of commerce report on aviation development in 1930 makes fascinating and surprising reading.

There are now 650 aircraft employed by 44 companies on 125 routes, and valued at $14,000,000, a gain of 100 planes and $4,000,000 over the year before. During 1930, aircraft flew a total of 40,000,000 miles, carrying 418,000 passengers, 3,100,000 pounds of mail and 3,250,000 pounds of express. Today there is scheduled air service flying more than 130,000 miles every 24 hours.

Lighted airways increased in mileage from 13,400 to 15,300; intermediate landing fields increased from 315 to 370 and the number of air beacon lights rose from 1470 to 1680. Radio and teletype service is provided for sending hourly weather reports to ground stations and fliers in the air over 9400 miles of the established airways and is being extended steadily. There are 164 more airports than there were a year ago, with hundreds more planned. Licensed planes, licensed pilots and airplane mechanics are rapidly increasing in number.

This is all splendid development, but there is room for a great deal more use of the air. The number of conservatives who have never been up in an airplane at all is still rather large.

America Combs Wide World For Its Names

San Francisco Chronicle

A team of American boxers defeated a team of French boxers before a big crowd in Chicago the other day.

The names of one team were: Perrier, Bruyere, Lerat, Esnault, Lahayes, Zigan, Elvias and Laudrin.

The names of the other team were: Rodak, Scialabba, Gonzales, Sylvana, Dardell, Caserio, Kraus and Sirutis.

Which was the American team and which the French? You can almost take either choice.

This really a letter written to The Chronicle a few days ago by a correspondent who expressed patriotic gratification over elimination from this year's casts of the Pacific Opera Company's season of a list of "foreign Italian" singers who had appeared the year before. Every one of the "Italian foreigners" named turned out to be an American citizen born in San Francisco.

They would have to begin their long sojourn anew, and the new prospective bride or groom waiting for him or her around the corner or maybe in the same hotel, will be greatly inconvenienced, don't you know?

But Will He Stay Sunk?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE PESSIONIST

The pessimist gazes aloft at the sky. Whenever it's cloudless and fair, And says with a solemn and lachrymose sigh: "There's an omen of rain in the air." He glances askance at the clear running brook, Which sings in its banks, and affirms: "I can tell by its limp and transparent look That it's full of malaria germs."

"All's for the worst," is the theme of his song, "All's for the worst and three cheers for the wrong."

When a few of us hope the depression is past And are seeking some comfort to borrow, The pessimist's optics are gloomily cast Toward a further depression tomorrow.

"There is never a chance to recover," says he, "Good tidings are not to be trusted.

In a couple of years, as all wise men agree,

We all shall be hopelessly busted."

"All's for the worst," is the song of this lad, "All's for the worst, and three cheers for the bad!"

When we think that the world will have peace for a while And the nations are coming along,

The pessimist says, with an ominous smile,

"That we're hopelessly, palpably wrong.

"You can't banish rancor and hatred," he cries,

"From the hearts of belligerent men.

As soon as the armies assemble supplies

"They'll be fighting like wildcats again."

"All's for the worst," is the note he has struck,

"All's for the worst, and hurrah for bad luck!"

Does Production Finance Consumption?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

An old and very respectable economic theory, which is still in good standing in many colleges, says that the making of goods necessarily provides consumers with enough money to buy the goods. In other words, production automatically finances consumption.

According to this theory, a man who makes a hat, for example, pays out enough wages, interest, rent, dividends, and so on, to enable somebody to buy the hat. So general overproduction is impossible.

The idea seems to be that in the process of making a five-dollar hat, the producer waves his wand over the hat, and presto!—somebody draws forth from the hat a five-dollar bill wherewith to buy the hat.

Unfortunately, this old theory is unsound. It is unsound because it ignores the fact that something besides rabbits are taken out of hats, namely profits. Sometimes the profits are illusory. At other times they are real. And some of the real profits do not get back to consumers at all.

The flow of the money is not automatic. It is subject to all sorts of human interference.

Some of the profits are accumulated for a period of time. During the past 18 months, for example, a lot of profits have been piled up in banks in the form of time deposits. They came from consumers, but they have not yet found their way back to consumers. Meantime, business has been in the doldrums because sales have been in the dumps.

Again, some of the profits are used to pay off bank loans. Thus bank credit is wiped off the books. It goes out of existence.

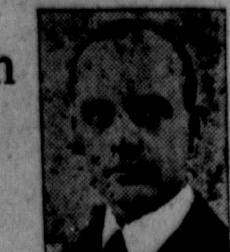

This happens most easily and most naturally precisely when it will do the most harm; namely, when a business depression begins.

Some day we shall exercise sufficient control over the flow of money to prevent major business depressions. But we are not likely to do that until we get over the illusion that production automatically finances consumption.

Thoughts On Modern Life

AN ECONOMIC BRIGHT SPOT

On the basis of such data as I have found readily available, I have been making a cursory survey of the status of our major industries.

In this airplane flight that I have figuratively taken over American industries, one industry has appeared as an economic bright spot in relation to industry in general, and that is the food industry.

As against about a 40 per cent decline in general industrial earnings a study of the net income of about 50 representative food industries—production and manufacture—shows, for the same period, a decline of only 12 per cent.

In the period studied—1930 as against 1929—there was a drop of 11 per cent in retail food prices following a 16 per cent drop in wholesale food prices.

Taken as a whole the production and preparation for sale of foodstuffs constitute America's largest industry, and the fact that it is, perhaps, the stables of our industries is a happy fact to reckon with as we look into the future.

We spend annually about $22,000,000 for food bought at retail.

This means that approximately one-fourth of our national income is being spent for retail purchases in the field that is least
